Tree of Life Wreath-Making Workshop

With Resilient Stories' Danielle Dahl
Sunday, Jan 5 | 1:00 - 3:00 pm

Join us for an enriching afternoon where craft meets spirituality in our Tree of Life Wreath Crafting Workshop with special guest speaker, author Krista Lindquist!

Unleash your creativity as you design your own wreath using materials like twisted ropes, stones, and moss.

This event isn't just about making a decorative piece; it explores the Tree of Life's powerful symbolism—growth, interconnectedness, and renewal.

Each wreath incorporates several healing crystals (you can purchase additional crystals through Barjon's.)

Participants will learn about the symbolic meanings tied to each crystal, enhancing both their craft and their spiritual insight.

Space is limited to 12 attendees. RSVP online at www.barjonsbooks.com, or in person at Barjon's.

Meditation Fridays

Starting January 10

On 1st and 3rd Fridays, gather for mantra meditation led by Lisa Knowlton. Mantra sharpens the mind enhancing meditation.

On the 2nd and 4th Fridays, join us for meditation facilitated by Lama Kshanti Sadhana of the Billings Dharma Center.

Wicca 101

with Todd Kintz

Sundays, starting January 12

12:00pm - 2:00pm

10 week course: $100

What do Wiccans/Witches REALLY do and believe? What are the deeper meanings of the holidays that we all commonly celebrate? What's the true meaning of the pentacle and other Pagan symbols? Answers to these questions and more are in this 10-week class, including the basic beliefs, holidays, and traditions of Wicca, including divination and "tools of the trade".

There will also be information on the elements of antiquity (air, earth, fire, water and spirit), how they apply to rituals, and associated information on dragon and fairy lore, divination, magical names, and coven structures.

Practicing Wicca and witchcraft since 1999, Todd Kintz is a 3rd Degree High Priest and offers tarot readings on Fridays at Barjon's.

Space is limited to 5 attendees. RSVP online at www.barjonsbooks.com, or in person at Barjon's.

Energy Hygiene Workshop

with Lisa Knowlton

Saturday, Jan 25 | 1:00 - 3:00 pm

$50 (prepaid/early bird)

$60 (paid after January 20th)

In the Energy Hygiene class, participants will engage in experiential techniques designed to remove distractions that hinder clarity and self-empowerment. By learning to manage your energy body and detach from outside influences, you will reconnect with your authentic self, deepening your awareness of your inner truths.

In this class, learn experiential instructions for a technique known to clear "distractions" that keep us from feeling clarity or self-empowered.

As bioenergetic beings, we can easily become hindered by other people's energy (or views) and may unhook from truths that live underneath the surface of our experience. Learn to intentionally manage your energy body, detangle from others, and re-harmonize with your true self creating clarity and an understanding that we will not always avoid these entanglements but we can adjust and strengthen our frequency to enjoy more freedom from feeling as if we are being attacked or taken advantage of by "other." This technique will help you make clearer decisions based on sensory perception rather than analyzation, it will balance your energy, and will help you feel safe in your own body.

Space is limited to 12 attendees. RSVP online at www.barjonsbooks.com, or in person at Barjon's.

Chinese New Year: January 29

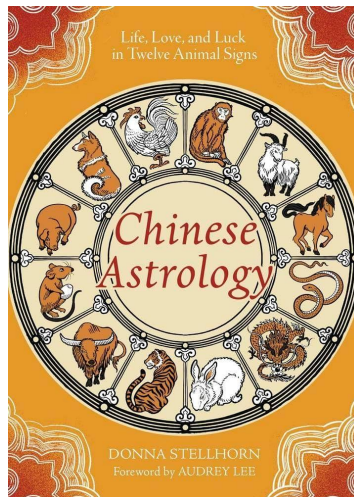

The Year of the Snake

2025 is the year of the Snake based on Chinese zodiac. This is a year of Wood Snake, starting from Jan. 29, 2025 to Feb. 16, 2026. Snake is the sixth in the 12-year cycle of the Chinese zodiac sign. In ancient Chinese traditions, the snake once presented a venerated image and it is one of the earliest totems of Chinese nations. Chinese mother goddess Nüwa who said to have created humanity has the body of a snake and the head of a human. The Chinese dragon also has a snake body.

People born in the Year of the Snake are considered rational, calm, thoughtful, and loyal to the loved ones.

Cleanse, then Charge

Advice for the New Moon, New Year

Midwinter is an excellent time to set goals for the coming year. Take this slow season to clear out the old and bring in the new!

Cleansing Methods:

House cleaning: The best, tried and true method for cleansing the energy of a given space is good, old-fashioned cleaning. Dusting, washing, sweeping and mopping is a budget friendly and effective way to shake loose stagnant or fouled energy. It's also a great way to recall stored energy in previously ignored or overlooked items.

Sound: Use singing bowls, bells or music to shake loose old energy and fill your space with fresh, new energy.

Smoke: smoke is seen as a vehicle that carries prayers, intentions, and negativity away. Burn cleansing herbs like cedar or rosemary, or incense to help

Salt: Sort of a "catch all" that will soak up all negative energies, sprinkle salt around edges and corners of a space, or place a bowl of salt decorated with cleansing herbs like cinnamon sticks and cloves.

Charging Methods:

Once your area is cleaned out, be sure to call in your intended energy to prevent random or undesirable energy from settling in the cleared space.

Sun & Moonlight: Cast open your curtains or set an object in the sun or moonlight to let it soak up that celestial energy.

Crystals: Selenite or Fluorite can be used to cleanse and charge other stones. Black stones, such as tourmaline and onyx, provide powerful grounding and protection against negative energy, while bringing forth healing energy.

Infused sprays: Infused oil sprays, such as citrus, lavender, or patouli, help raise positive energy, promote healing and use your sense of smell to help set intentions in your mind.
